Local Planning Contemporary Principles And Practice

A cultural landscape is defined as “a geographic area, including both cultural and natural resources and the activities or thematic elements having associated with a historic event, activity, or person or exhibiting other cultural or aesthetic value”. There are four general types of cultural landscapes, not mutually exclusive: historic sites, historic designed landscapes, historic areas, and historic

Copyright code: d41d8cd98f00b204e9800998ecf8427e
Copyright : americanlibrarieslive.org